

WAVE OF LOVE

Where the ocean meets the sand
We'll build castles with our hands
Where the sunlight meets the rain
We'll see colours

I know you are not me
You have your own story
But if I make yours mine
We'll see the whole world shine

We'll be a wave of love
There on the borderline
A tidal wave of love
We can be a wave of love
There on the borderline
We'll be a wave of love

Wave of love, wave

Where the mountains touch the sky
Where the watershed divides
The horizon stretches out
Never-ending

The road is steep and long
Together we are strong
And if we walk as one
The revolution has begun

We'll be a wave of love..

Where the waters freely flow
A new life will surely grow
