

YOU CAN COUNT ON ME

Yosef, Yosef, Yosef.
Yosef, Yosef.

The dream of the ages, this miracle child
in a poor lowly manger in front of your eyes.
His tiny hand reaches up, searching for yours.
He is helpless and hungry.
Yet he's the Lord of Heaven.
He's the Son of God

And hidden in the silence,
you seek no pride or power.
The strength of your love
will speak out even louder.
You'll offer him your home,
your fearless believing.
And with all that you do,
in your heart you'll be singing:

Here by your side, I will always be.
I will watch over you and keep you from harm
and the darkness will not overcome.
Here by your side, for your every need
And if ever I lose you I'll search for you.
With each day I will trust and believe.

You can count on me.
Yosef, Yosef, Yosef.
You can count on me.
Yosef, Yosef.

Joseph you're here, I can feel you today
as you guide every step
and you show us the way.
You build us a home
where the heavens will dwell.
We are truly one family
and God is here among us.
God is here today.

And hidden in the silence,
I'll seek no pride or power.
The strength of my love
will speak out even louder.
For the lonely and the poor,
for all of God's children,
I'll give all that I am,
as your voice sings within me:

Here by your side, I will always be.
I will watch over you and keep you from harm
and the darkness will not overcome.
Here by your side, for your every need.
And if ever I lose you I'll search for you.
With each day I will trust and believe.

You can count on me.

Io sono qui, sempre qui per te.
Avrò cura di te, ti proteggerò
ed il male non ti vincerà.

Yo estoy aquí, siempre junto a ti.
Y si un día te pierdo, te buscaré.
De mi mano no te dejaré.

Tú confía en mí.
Yosef, Yosef, Yosef.

Conta su di me.
Yosef, Yosef.

You can count on me.
You can count on me.
You can count on us.
